

Elite PI+[®] Elevator Displays

8.4" | 10.4" | 12.1" | 15"

Headline News, Stock Market, Weather

The Elite PI+ stands out above all other elevator displays by being the most flexible position indicator available. It allows the representation of much more than just an elevator position. It's a multi-functional unit designed to display both custom graphics and text, such as advertisements, tenant, building information, text-based messages and now headline news updates.

With your Elite PI+, your building can bring you the latest news and keep your riders up-to-date with what's going on in the world.

Stay Informed. Ride The Elevator.

C.E. Electronics Ltd.

Marlow, Bucks, UK

Ph: +44 (0) 1628 487633

www.cееlectronics.com

C.E. Electronics Inc.

Bryan, OH, USA

Ph: (419) 636-6705

Typical UK News Feed Wednesday 16th February 2011 9:22 am

Mining Giant BHP Billiton posts record $10.5bn profit

Global demand and rising prices helped BHP Billiton, the world's largest mining company, to earn a record high $10.5 billion in profit for the six months ending in December 2010

Vivienne Westwood had no idea who Style Icon recipient Emma Watson is

Emma Watson has been honoured with a Style Icon award by no less than fashion legend Vivienne Westwood at the Elle Style Awards Monday. The problem is, Westwood had no idea who Watson is, and she wasn't shy to let everyone know it

United Kingdom jobless rate rises to 7.9%

The unemployment rate in the United Kingdom rose unexpectedly during the last three months of 2010, by 44,000 to nearly 2.5 million people

Morrisons purchases Kiddicare for $105 million

Morrisons, Britain's fourth largest grocer, purchased online baby products retailer Kiddicare Tuesday for $105 million (GBP 70 million)

Bank of England governor hints of interest rate increase

Bank of England governor Mervyn King hinted Tuesday that key interest rates may go up in spring because of the rise of inflation rate to 4 percent in January

Report: NHS ignores basic needs of elderly patients

Some senior patients at National Health institutions are not given their basic needs, according to a report released Monday by the British Health Service ombudsman

British PM orders councils to cut pay, not services

British Prime Minister David Cameron has ordered local councils to cut their pay instead of services that support charities. Cameron made the command Monday at the relaunch of the Big Society concept in which people would be given more responsibility for public services and their communities

The King's Speech rules the BAFTAs

"The King's Speech" swept the BAFTAs, winning seven awards at the ceremony held at the Royal Opera House in London on Sunday. The British Academy Film Awards named the historical drama outstanding British film, and gave stars Colin Firth, Geoffrey Rush and Helena Bonham Carter performance trophies.

Britain wants international community to take joint action on Mubarak's foreign assets

Britain has called on the international community to take necessary concerted actions with ex-Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak's assets held overseas, Business Secretary Vince Cable said and more